NORTH WATERFORD.

Sick Only One Week.

The friends of Herbert E. Pearson were very much shocked to hear of his sudden death of typhoid pneumonia at Lewiston, Jan. 8. He had lived several years when a small child at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parris Paige, then went to Lewiston and about four years ago came back to Waterford and lived with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hazelton nearly two years. He attended school here and also at Bisbee.

He is the son of Mrs. Charles N. Gilman of Lewiston. He attended the M. E. Sunday school and was a member of the classes and clubs in the social settlement. Mr. Pearson was a member of C. C. N. G. S. M., Auburn, and was the young man shot at Cushing's Island during muster last season, and was the first to receive a pension under the new law. The first installment came to him the day he died. He lived in the weaver room at Bates. Besides his mother, he leaves one brother, Willis E. Pearson, a member of the 4th Cavalry, Mindanao, Philippine Islands.

He was buried from the house of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Gilman, Rev. F. H. Hall, pastor of Park street Methodist church, officiating. Interment in Riverside. Co. C had charge of the funeral.

Montie Grover cut his foot while working in the woods near Tuskahola. Charles Grover had a shock, last Saturday that affected his face badly. Oliver McAllister had the misfortune to fall on the ice and break his arm in two places.

Mrs. A. B. Washburn visited her granddaughter, Mrs. Marie Moore of Bisbee.

Henry Elliott hurt his knee which caused him to go some lame and be hard to get around.

Mr. Robinson, who has been boarding at Parris Paige's for the last five weeks, has gone to Lowell.

Bisbee.
The school closed here, last week. Hattie Knight has been at home a few days.

Several of the children have had the chicken pox.

Will McAllister's brother and family are living in a part of his house.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Knight and Della Watson have had the grip, but are better now.

Edith Knight, who has been at her home for a week, has returned to her work.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hazelton and Cora Scribner went to Norway, Wednesday of last week.

The mill at Tuskahola was shut down a few days, last week, on account of breaking a part of the machinery.

WEST BUCKFIELD.

Mrs. Wm. Harlow was much improved. Harry Buck's brood sow has nine pigs. Mrs. Harry Buck was at North Buckfield the last of last week.

Mrs. O. D. Warren, Leonard Bounney and Little Florence Bennett are all sick. S. M. Bonney, R. C. Lowe, H. B. Buck and Will Fogg harvested their ice last week, hauling it from North Buckfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buck entertained as guests, Wednesday night, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Barrett, Ida and Bernice Record, Edith Barrett and Virginia Barrett. They came down from Barrett and all went to the dance at Freeland Harlow's, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Buck and Jessie Bonney.

Japs Never Take Cold.

With the approach of chilly weather people are becoming fearful lest they should take cold after a hot bath, but this opinion is unable to reconcile itself with the immunity of the Japanese from colds.

The ordinary bath consists of a large wooden tub oval in shape and fitted with a cover. Before he enters the tub the bather thoroughly lathers himself from head to foot and washes the lather off by means of a wooden ladle or dipper. He then sits in the tub, immersed up to his chin, for several minutes, enduring a degree of heat by which a European would be well nigh parboiled.

When Japan first began to study the methods of Western nations the excessive heat of the baths was strongly condemned and a law was made that the water in the public baths should be only moderately heated. This caused great discontent, so a committee composed of European and Japanese medical men was appointed to decide the question. The verdict was pronounced to be not only harmless but beneficial.

The high temperature of the water was said to open the pores of the skin thoroughly, even without the use of soap, and a healthy action of the skin and cleanliness were maintained, which it was impossible to get with any amount of washing in cold or so-called hot baths.

Young and growing animals absorb a much larger percentage of the fertilizing constituents of their food than do those that are mature or full grown. Stated approximately, we may say that from 50 to 75 per cent of the nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash of the food of the former will be found in the manure, from 90 to 95 per cent in that of the latter.

According to the wants or requirements of the animal, so is the quality of the resulting manure. The production of milk, flesh and wool makes a heavy demand upon the food, so that the manure of animals manufacturing these is poorer than similar animals that are not performing these functions.

Mature animals at rest return practically all the fertilizing constituents in milk, urine about 25 per cent of the plant food elements in their diet, and their manure is consequently less rich than that from fattening steers, which do not retain more than 10 per cent of such constituents.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

RARE JUSTICE

Bunny Rabbit went one day last week to rob Mr. Coon's corncrib, and Mr. Coon caught him in the very act.

"I'll march you off to jail, sir, and that's what I'll do with you!"

"Oh, don't march me off to jail! Anything but that! I know I ought to be killed. Throw me in the river, drown me, but don't march me off to jail!" pleaded Bunny Rabbit.

"All right," said old man Coon. "But if I throw you in the river you'll swim out. I know you. That's what you'll do."

"I was just coming to that," said Bunny Rabbit. "I was just going to ask you to tie my hands behind my back, so I couldn't swim a stroke. I'm afraid when I get in that cold water I might try to swim, and so I want you to tie me."

Old man Coon thought he never had seen such a repentant rabbit in all his days. There was something suspicious about it, but he tied Master Bunny Rabbit's paws hard and fast. Then Bunny Rabbit stood on the bank of the river and wept, and the tears dropped down his furry little cheeks, and his paws were tied so he couldn't wipe them away. Oh, he was a piteous spectacle!

"Go up to the top of that high hill," said he, "and run down just as fast as you can and give me a good shove away out into the middle of the water, so I will drown quick."

Mr. Coon went up and ran, but Bunny Rabbit's hind feet were not tied, and when Mr. Coon got to him Bunny stepped to one side. Splash went old man Coon into the water.

"Oh, save me! Save me, Brother Bunny Rabbit!" cried Mr. Coon, who could not swim, was helpless with fear—Atlanta Constitution.

BARNYARD MANURE.

Things That Affect Its Quantity and Quality as Plant Food.

By F. R. SHUTT, Canada.

The composition of barnyard manure—in other words, its value as a direct supplier of plant nutrition—will depend not only upon the relative proportions of solid and liquid excreta and litter making up the whole, but also upon certain factors affecting the two former—first, the kind; second, the food; third, the age; fourth, the condition and function of the animal producing it.

Considering the farm stock, horses, cows, pigs and sheep, other things being equal, the analysis of the fresh solid excreta of these animals places the dumps in the following order of value: Sheep, pigs, horses, cows.

The urine of the sheep is seen to be the most valuable, containing the largest amount of nitrogen and potash. That of the horse ranks next, with the cow's and pig's following in the order named. The urine of animals is much richer in nitrogen and potash than the solid excrements, but it is practically destitute of phosphoric acid.

Food is by far the most important factor in determining the fertilizing value of both solid and liquid excreta. The richer the food in albuminoids, or flesh formers, the richer will the manure be in nitrogen. The same is true as regards phosphoric acid and potash.

As the quality and quantity of the solid food affect the amount and composition of the excrements, so does the amount of water drunk. The more water that the animal takes the poorer or more dilute will be the urine, but the inferior quality will be largely compensated for by the increased quantity voided.

Young and growing animals absorb a much larger percentage of the fertilizing constituents of their food than do those that are mature or full grown. Stated approximately, we may say that from 50 to 75 per cent of the nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash of the food of the former will be found in the manure, from 90 to 95 per cent in that of the latter.

According to the wants or requirements of the animal, so is the quality of the resulting manure. The production of milk, flesh and wool makes a heavy demand upon the food, so that the manure of animals manufacturing these is poorer than similar animals that are not performing these functions.

Mature animals at rest return practically all the fertilizing constituents in milk, urine about 25 per cent of the plant food elements in their diet, and their manure is consequently less rich than that from fattening steers, which do not retain more than 10 per cent of such constituents.

SOUTH PARIS

Refreshments were served and a general good time enjoyed. Mr. Chapman was presented with a pocket book as a token of esteem.

Porter District.
Beulah Robbins of Sumner recently visited at F. Pelton's.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Shaw visited at J. A. Conroy's, Sunday.

Mrs. Chas. Noble and Mrs. J. L. Bridgman recently spent the day with Mrs. Mabel Greeley.

B. Y. Russell sold his oxen to Andover parties last week and purchased a pair of J. C. Howe.

Mrs. Ann Jackson and son George, and Mrs. Sydney Farnum have been sick with a gripe.

Charles Ormsby has finished work at B. M. Greeley's and returned to Boston. Ned Truman, Norway, takes his place.

A. E. Marshall, who is noted for being forward, has his next year's firewood all fitted, with, we dare say, two years' supply in the shed to go with it.

The Baptist minister of West Paris held meetings each evening last week in the Biscoe schoolhouse, and continued again this week. Retha Glover of Mechanic Falls preached Saturday evening.

Leslie M. Barrows took a tumble on the ice by the roadside, Sunday afternoon. He bruised his face badly and about it, but he tied Master Bunny Rabbit's paws hard and fast. Then Bunny Rabbit stood on the bank of the river and wept, and the tears dropped down his furry little cheeks, and his paws were tied so he couldn't wipe them away. Oh, he was a piteous spectacle!

"Oh, save me! Save me, Brother Bunny Rabbit!" cried Mr. Coon, who could not swim, was helpless with fear—Atlanta Constitution.

HARRISON.

Friday, Jan. 24, was a red letter day for Lakeside grange, it being the occasion of the installation of officers by State Master Stetson who was accompanied on his visit to Harrison by Past Master Gardner.

The forenoon meeting was a business session, with a few remarks at the close by visiting brothers from Highland, Bear Mountain, Sweden and Crooked River granges. A bountiful dinner was served at noon and about 175 hungry patrons did ample justice to it.

In the afternoon the following officers were installed by State Master Stetson, assisted by Brother and Sister Monroe of Waterford:

Mr. John W. Nevers.
O. J. Arthur Chabourne.
O. J. Arthur Chabourne.
S. Lewis F. Bates.
A. S. Harry E. Smith.
Chap. Charles E. Eaton.
Treas. James F. Blake.
Sec. Bertha M. Nevers.
Edw. Lewis N. Lewis.
Cores—Mrs. Eliza A. Thomas.
Pomona—Mrs. Melissa D. Chute.
Flora—Mrs. L. A. May E. Furlington.

The installation ceremonies were carried out in full, including the floor work at the commencement, which was well carried out.

Following the installation was a short literary entertainment, consisting of music by the orchestra, recitation by Harry E. Smith and a brief discussion of the following question: "Resolved, That farming offers greater inducements to our young men than any other occupation." Next came the best part of the meeting, speeches by Brothers Stetson and Gardner. The speech of the State Master was earnest and aggressive, pledging to the order his whole time and best efforts for the two years to come. He spoke of the importance of discussing live questions even if they were political, avoiding partisan politics.

Past Master Gardner spoke in a usual happy vein, and in a practical way briefly discussing one or two points in regard to the tariff, strictly on the lines laid down by National Master Batchelder.

Lakeside starts the new year in good shape, opening with this successful meeting, and having a class of four to start in at the next meeting. The lecturer, who is a very bright young lady, has prepared an attractive printed program for the coming year, and it is safe to say there will be something doing at every meeting of this grange for the year to come.

SOUTH CHATHAM, N. H.

Essie Heath of the Green Hill neighborhood has a new parlor organ.

David Record and his nephew, Harry Record, narrowly escaped a serious accident, Saturday. While sitting in their pump at the railroad station, their horse becoming restive, the seat was thrown backwards and both occupants precipitated to the ice and bruises and ugly cuts about their heads and faces, which bled profusely. Both were rendered unconscious, but soon recovered and no bones were found broken.

BETHEL.

Mrs. Olive Bacon Young.

Mrs. Olive Young for 63 years a resident of Bethel died at her home on Main street last Saturday night, at the ripe age of 85 years.

Mrs. Young was born in Woodstock, Sept. 30, 1852, the daughter of Rebecca Holmes and Benjamin Bacon, being one of nine children. She spent her girlhood days with her parents within two miles of West Paris on the old homestead.

She was married Aug. 5, 1875, to Hiram Young and immediately moved to Bethel, where she has always lived. Mr. Young started the harness business, which is now conducted by his son, Elmer H. Young. Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Young, the two eldest having died. Mrs. Young remained at the old home on Main street with her daughter, Mrs. Ava Finney, and grandchildren, Jameson and Marguerite Finney. Nine years ago Mrs. Young moved there, and at that time Mrs. Young's oldest daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hopkins, came to live with her.

About two years ago, Dec. 29, 1905, Mrs. Young suffered a stroke of paralysis and since that time has been an invalid. The final attack was about two weeks' ago.

She leaves to mourn their loss, four children, Mrs. L. B. Hopkins, Elmer H. Young, Mrs. B. R. Bradbury and Frank Young, two grandchildren, Jameson and Mrs. Lester Cowan, and one brother, Abel Bacon of Bryant's Pond, besides a host of friends.

The funeral took place at the home, Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock. Rev. F. E. Barton of Fairfield assisted by Rev. Mr. Mansfield conducted the services. Interment was at Woodlawn cemetery.

She was the oldest member of the Universalist church, having been prominently connected with the building and dedicating of the church, and has always been a most earnest and efficient worker.

Leland Mason, who has spent several years in California, was in our village calling upon friends last week.

Ella Sanborn, who went to the Maine General hospital in Portland for an operation for appendicitis, is reported as doing nicely.

Rev. Wm. Curtis of Waldoboro, who has been called to the Congregational church in Bethel, will occupy the pulpit next Sunday.

Will P. Hammons, business manager of The Times Printing Company of Seattle, died of pneumonia. He had been confined to his bed for eleven days. Mr. Hammons was 38 years old having been born in Bethel in 1899. At a very early age he moved to the state of Minnesota, where he lived for several years before he went to Seattle in 1930.

The mill of the Bethel Manufacturing Company has shut down after running for a little over a week sawing long lumber. At the annual meeting of the stockholders held Jan. 14th, some sweeping changes were made in the make-up of the official board so that the entire control of the company is now held by the Portland interests. It is uncertain when business will be resumed.

BRYANT'S POND.

Died in Colorado.

The death of Albert H. Bates, formerly a resident of our town and one of our best tradesmen, occurred at Grockett store in company with Rufus K. Dunham.

In 1858 he represented Woodstock in the Legislature. Later he moved to Portland where he engaged in mercantile business. In 1880 he was elected to the Chicago convention which nominated Lincoln. When the war broke out in 1861 he was commissioned captain of Co. E, 10th Maine Infantry.

At the close of his military service he settled in New York, moving to Maine in 1870. Here

WEST DENMARK.

Deasey, Phelan.

William Blake Deasey of West Denmark was quietly married to Mary Josephine Phelan at the latter's home in Boston, Mass. Tuesday, Jan. 14th.

Mr. Deasey is in the cattle business, which necessitates his going to Boston very frequently. Upon one of his trips he met his bride, who is a charming young woman and very pretty. Their relationship turned to love and ended with their marriage of last Tuesday.

Miss Phelan, now Mrs. Deasey, was married in her traveling gown which is of blue broadcloth with white trimmings. She had on a becoming blue hat of the latest fashion.

The old Deasey homestead has been renovated and fitted up especially for the happy pair.

WEST STONEHAM.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Hilton attended the dance at West Lovell, Saturday evening.

Mrs. Elden Andrews of Stow has visited her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Andrews.

Oliver McAllister of West Lovell was in this vicinity, Saturday, selling meat, fresh fish, extracts, etc.

H. B. McKee swapped a nice pair of steer calves for a work horse with Henry Walker of Lovell, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sawyer recently visited their daughter, Mrs. Maud McAllister of North Waterford.

Harold Andrews is attending school at North Lovell. He crosses the lake afoot on the ice morning and night.

H. B. McKee's infant daughter Hallie has been quite sick and under the doctor's care, but is better now.

Ralph Adams has gone to Ketchikan to work for Charles Adams of North Stoneham, who has a job in the lumber business.

Vesta Frost and friend, Walter Smith of Norway have been visiting her sister, Mrs. Herbert Adams, the past week, and returned home, Saturday.

Mrs. J. C. Sawyer enjoyed a social call on Mrs. C. A. Garcelon, Saturday, at their beautiful home on the east shore of the lake near North Lovell.

"A friend in Tampa, Fla., writes that they are having plenty of ripe oranges, also plenty of orange blossoms, and lots of beautiful flowers are blooming in the yards. It would require quite a stretch of imagination to see them blooming in our yards, even in this mild winter.

WEST PORTER.

Alonso Libby and wife attended meeting at the Center, Sunday.

George Tewksbury was at home from Freedom, N. H., over Sunday.

Bertha Coolbroth was a guest at Mr. and Mrs. Abial Downes', Sunday.

Edwin Philbrick and family of East Brownfield visited his aged father, Sunday.

Our streets are still paved with ice and it is very dangerous traveling unless well shod.

Tobias Libby, wife and two children spent Sunday at the home of his father and mother.

George Tewksbury and his mother made a flying trip to Kezar Falls, Saturday evening.

Walter Richardson and wife called on her father and mother at the village, Sunday afternoon.

R. Libby visited his brother, Thomas, Sunday. Mrs. Libby is in very poor health this winter.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Installation and Ball.

The public installation of the officers of Bear Mountain grange for the present year was celebrated on Wednesday, Jan. 22. State Deputy Keniston of Lovell was the installing officer, which service he performed in a very graceful and satisfactory manner. Brother Melville Monroe and wife acted as ushers and proved themselves thorough adepts in that important part of the service. The officers installed were as follows:

W. W. Abbott.
O. Arthur Sanderson.
L. Flora K. Stearns.
S. George H. Bice.
A. S. Chas. S. Hamlin.
Chap.—Frank Stearns.
Treas.—Henry Billings.
Sec.—C. J. Hamlin.
C. K. Perry Kimball.
Ceres—Flora G. Abbott.
Pomona—Bessie Hamlin.
Fort—Garrie Hamlin.
L. S. S.—Mary E. Hamlin.
Organist—Charles D. Morse.
Chorister—Ida Riggs.
Exec. Com. for 1908—C. S. Hamlin, M. Monroe, W. K. Hamlin.

Agent and store keeper—L. W. Flint. Auditor—Dr. A. J. Simpson.

The day was the finest of the winter. The women of the grange excelled even their once famous record in their hospitality and the sumptuous quality of their dinners at which a multitude were amply regaled.

After conclusion of regular services, a series of exercises were held consisting of readings by Sisters Haynes and Marr, song by Eleanor Kneeland, violin and piano duets by Packard and Miss Morse, and chorus by choir.

The annual installation ball came off in the evening under the management of Moll Monroe and Will Haynes. The program of music was superb, played by Packard, leader, violin; Delmore Robinson, clarinet; Gladys Robinson, cornet; Matt Walker, contra bass; George Packard, piano. About 40 couples participated in the dances. An oyster supper was served at recess in the banquet room by the committee to about 100 guests.

The ladies' whist club held a delightful mid-winter session at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Noble on Friday evening, Jan. 24. It was gentlemen's night and the guests invited were:

Mr. and Mrs. Watson.
Mr. and Mrs. Monroe.
Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin.
Mr. and Mrs. Shurtlett.
Mr. and Mrs. Billings.
Mr. and Mrs. Young.
Mr. and Mrs. Ned Stone.
Mr. and Mrs. C. Smith.
Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sawyer.

HIRAM.

A Chapter of Misfortunes.

Herbert Goodwin, while working in a portable saw mill, sawed his hand quite badly.

Clifford Clemons, while sliding, ran into a telephone pole and is laid up in consequence.

Isiah Fly was taken suddenly ill while at work on his wood pile. They called in a physician who pronounced it grip.

Mrs. Charles Ridlon fell on the ice, injuring her severely.

As Hill's team was drawing a load of logs to his mill the load slid over an embankment, carrying four oxen with it, a distance of 100 feet, but fortunately all came out alive.

The ice crop is being harvested with good success.

Chas. Gould lost a fine cow Thursday, by slipping on ice.

Elsworth Danham is at home this winter, doing cabinet work.

R. N. Lowell is cutting and hauling ash and birch for Sewell Hobson.

Frank Goodwin, who enlisted in the navy, served out his time and is as home with his mother, Alice Goodwin.

I. S. Lowell has just commenced cutting timber on his home place, which will be hauled to Hill's mill on Portland road.

Many of the fellows went to the Pythian Jubilee, which was held at City hall, Portland, and said they had a better time than expected.

Our postmaster is in receipt of a letter from Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General F. V. Dugway, stating complaints which have reached the department of delay in the delivery of mail and hardships imposed upon rural carriers while serving their routes, due to the practice of patrons placing loose coins in their hands for the purchase of stamps each time they desire to despatch letters, and they are urged hereafter to provide themselves in advance with as liberal supply of stamps as circumstances will permit. So all letters must be stamped before the carriers will be obliged to take them from the boxes.

LOVELL.

Mrs. Ella Walker is still on the sick list.

B. E. Brown and wife are on a visit to Boston and vicinity.

Sumner Kimball has sold the land at foot of Stearns hill, formerly owned by Silas Heald, to W. H. Smith of Stow.

The rain of Sunday night and Monday has left the roads one mass of glittering ice, and caused many of the loggers to quit the woods.

Mr. W. C. Bassett has been at home from Fryeburg for a few days, going back Monday, where she boards her daughters, who are attending the academy.

The degree team of Kezar Valley lodge, I. O. O. F. are making preparations to visit Fryeburg lodge, Thursday evening, being invited there to work the second degree.

The village circle was held at the church, Friday evening, being entertained by Mrs. C. H. Brown and Mrs. Geo. W. Walker. After the supper a short program of readings and music was given.

MASON.

H. G. Mason has a new Edison phonograph.

Bertha Tyler visited her friend, Marian Bean, one day last week.

F. C. Bean and daughter, Marion, visited at Edwin Hutchins', Sunday.

Reas Westleigh and wife attended the dance at West Bethel, Saturday night.

MAIN STREET, NORWAY, ME.

WEST BETHEL.

Want Main Street Lighted.

A few of the people gathered at Mrs. Stella Goodridge's, Thursday evening, to see if there wasn't some way to secure lights for the main street. They decided to have suppers and hold socials every few weeks to obtain money enough for this purpose.

The proper officers were elected and their first supper will be held Thursday, Jan. 30, at Mrs. Ed. Bell's.

Harry Inman was at Bethel, last Monday.

Hazen Lowell has finished work for Mr. Stoll.

There was a dance at Bell's Hall, Saturday night.

Vivian Rollins is working for Mrs. Mike Vashaw.

There are several sick with grip at the present time.

Adrian Grover is working for Percy & Co. on the landing.

Willie Mills went to Poland Springs, Friday, returning Saturday.

Frederick Grover and son Adrian have finished harvesting their ice.

Mrs. Harry Inman and Mrs. Elmer Stiles were at Bethel, recently.

Fairfield Lewis of South Paris is taking Ed. Bell's place working on the section.

Ralph Hines has returned from Lewiston and gone back to work for Merrill & Sprigler. He boards at Elmer Stiles.

Verne Oleson, who has been staying with his grandmother, Mrs. T. J. Wheeler, has returned to his home at Lewiston.

GILEAD.

Archie and Alfred Heath are hauling pulp.

J. DeCoster has been on the road selling fish.

F. B. Coffin has painted the inside of his store. It looks very nice.

Templeton's Town Topics.

"Don't mend but make permanent" was the stand that this paper took on the road question some time ago. It takes the same stand today and is, in that respect, still firmer. Its belief that that is what we need, what we should have and what we must have. That also is the sentiment of the majority of our people. It remains for someone to go ahead and do something. The board of trade has the matter well in hand and is doing good work but that alone cannot do everything. It requires the support of the people—the voters. Year after year there has been an article in the town warrant to see if the town would vote to buy a steam roller or something similar. The article has come up, no one has shown enough interest to get on to his feet and support it and it has been "passed over." Don't let it happen again this year. Come to town meeting prepared to say something on the road question—and say it.

THE ADVERTISER man has talked with numerous people of the town regarding the matter and all are of the same general opinion—that better roads are needed and they are willing to do their share towards getting them. Now prove that you are in earnest. Get your ideas together and present them at the meeting. Don't get the idea that this improvement is intended for the village alone. It's for the whole town and for the benefit of everyone in town.

Norway Municipal Court.

Sunday, John Hickey was arrested by Deputy Sheriff W. A. Hickey. Hickey was intoxicated and disturbing the peace. He resisted the officer but was taken to the "cooler." Monday he was brought into court and sentenced to pay $5 and costs which was paid and he was discharged.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

A Smash Up.
George Skillings' team of Bolster's Mills caused considerable excitement on Cottage street Friday noon. Mr. Skillings was driving towards the town. On account of the "jockey strap" attachment the reins caught and he was unable to control them. The speed of the horses steadily increased. The wagon was cutting a semi-circle on the icy street when in front of Y. W. Hill the team started for the sidewalk, and came to a sudden halt against a telephone pole. Mr. Skillings was suddenly deposited on terra firma and the horses were also thrown.

A crowd quickly gathered and assisted to get the horses up and the wagon righted. The pole of the wagon was broken but beyond that the damage was slight.

A Ballot of Years Ago.
Capt. C. S. Penley sends us a ballot and says this is his ticket for town officers this year:

Clerk... E. H. BROWN.
Selectmen... L. H. WHEATLEY,
F. A. DANFORTH,
J. A. BOLSTER.
Treasurer... S. FAYOR.
Sup. School Com. NATHANIEL GUNNISON.
Town Agent... W. W. VIGIN.

The ballot was probably used in this town in the sixties.
The only one now living is Francis A. Danforth, and he is at Southern Pines, N. C. This winter.

Mrs. Edward R. Kneeland has been sick with the grip.

Mrs. E. L. Cowan of Rumford Falls has been at Dr. B. F. Bradbury's this week.

About a dozen Norway people attended the dance at South Paris, Friday evening.

Much sympathy is expressed for Portland in her loss of her fine city building by fire, from Norway people.

I. W. Waite has leased the store formerly occupied by A. L. Sanborn & Co. and will move his stock there in the near future.

A. L. Sanborn is to move from the rent over his store on Main street to a rent in D. S. Sanborn's house at Steep Falls.

C. E. Brown says: Open time fishing on Sebago lake, Apr. 1 to Sept. 1 each year, whether the lake freezes up or not.

Leah Nuremberg, the head bookkeeper in B. F. Spinney & Co.'s Boston office, is in Norway this week in the office at the factory.

Mrs. J. F. Swain entertained the T. R. L. sewing club at her home, Friday evening. A Welsh rarebit supper was served.

Mrs. Randall O. Porter, a bookkeeper in B. F. Spinney & Co.'s office, recently entertained the girls in the office to a Welsh rarebit supper.

The Norway Camp, Modern Woodmen of America, have been invited by Bridgton Camp to visit them, Tuesday evening, Feb. 4. They go by team and will leave Norway about 3.30 p. m.

Walter Powers put in his ice last Saturday.

Austin Powers went to Gilead last Thursday.

Mrs. Bessie Learned is able to go out riding again.

Frank Douglass is on the gain but not able to go to work yet.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Billings from Bethel called at A. H. Powers' last Sunday.

Charles Douglass from Bethel visited at Frank Douglass' last Thursday.

W. F. Small bought a cow and two pigs of C. D. Bean of Sunday River.

A Railroad Man Dies.
Lewis Albion Emerson, a prominent railroad man, died at his home in Summerville, S. C., at the age of 63 years. He was born in Bridgton on the old family homestead.

At the time of his death Mr. Emerson was assistant general freight agent of the Southern railroad, a position created for him when that road absorbed the South Carolina and Georgia road of which he was traffic manager. He had been prominently identified with the Northern Western, Shobogyan, Fond du Lac, Michigan Central, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Home, Watertown & Ogdensburg, New York Central and Vermont Central.

He is survived by an aged mother, Mrs. Lucy H. Emerson, a widow, two sons and a daughter.

A Pet That's the Real Thing.
A. H. Eastman of Berlin, N. H., has at his home a fine alligator about one foot in length, which he brought from Florida on his return from Florida recently. He is a very cunning pet and is more intelligent than one would judge. He only takes food once a week. Although he is but a few months old, he knows his name (Sambo) and will come when called. When he arrived from the South he was in a very small cage, but in a warm room for a few hours he became very lively.

Mr. Eastman would be very glad to exhibit this alligator to anyone desirous of seeing it, as he is very anxious of establishing the idea of having alligators for pets instead of cats and dogs. Although this alligator is very small now, he comes from a species whose size is very large, some being from 12 to 15 feet in length and whose weight is from six to eight hundred pounds, so that no one need be deterred from having one of these small alligators for pets on account of the size as in time they will attain any size desired.

The Woman's club of Lovell will give the drama, "Because I Love You," at Pine Grove hall, Thursday evening, Feb. 6, followed by a social dance. Cast of characters:

Imogene Courtleigh... Carrie E. Hubbard
Nancy Tyson... Mrs. Iva C. Fox

HOUSE WORK

Thousands of American women in our homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty.

In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women everywhere. A female weakness or displacement is often brought on and they suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these faithful women that LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND comes as a boon and a blessing, as it did to Mrs. F. Ellsworth, of Mayville, N. Y., and to Mrs. W. P. Boyd, of Beaver Falls, Pa., who say:

"I was not able to do my own work owing to the female trouble from which I suffered. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me wonderfully, and I am so well that I can do as big a day's work as I ever did. I wish every sick woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Portland's Second Fire Within a Week.

Portland had another fire early Monday morning in which Milliken, Cousens & Co. and others were the losers.

Loss more than a million dollars. Milliken, Cousens & Co. is one of the leading dry goods firms of New England, and its commercial life dates back of the big Deering, Milliken & Co., the concern opening its doors for business in 1865.

This is of more than passing interest to its founders, was a South Paris boy.

Mr. Deering is now 82 years of age, but still vigorous and, while he no longer has an active interest in the Deering Harvester Co., which he made one of the greatest commercial enterprises in the country, he keeps in touch with the business world, and his judgment is often sought by the younger men who have succeeded him.

He lives in Evanston, Ill., and spends his summers at Paw Paw lake in Michigan, and while he is worth millions he is modest in his tastes, unassuming in his ways and kindly and approachable to all who have any call to see him.

He was born in South Paris and along in 1842 when he was about 18 years of age, he was working in a woolen mill sorting wool at wages of eight dollars and a board a month. He spent seven years in the growing establishment, mill and a general store, the saw mill driven by the same water power that turned the spindles in the other plant.

From wool sorting to the machinery buying—and at 22 years old, to the agency of the factory, was the boy's progress.

At 23 years old he was married and with Seth Milliken, a few years later came to Portland, establishing the dry goods commission house of Deering, Milliken & Co.

His first wife was Abby Barbour, a Maine woman, to whom he was married in 1849. The one son of the union is Charles Deering. The mother dying soon afterward, Mr. Deering was married on Dec. 12, 1856, to Clara Hamilton, and on Dec. 16, 1906, celebrated his golden anniversary of the wedding. The children of this union are James Deering and John F. Deering. The wife of Richard F. Howe, the two sons and the son-in-law are active in the International Harvester Co. of the present day.

According to John F. Steward, a veteran of the harvester manufacturing business, William Deering owes his millions to the fact that he was born with "silver" fingers—fingers cultivated in sorting wool in the little South Paris factory when they later knew binder twice.

DIXFIELD.
Henry Newman has moved into the Dunham rent on High street.

Miss Pollard, one of the high school teachers, is boarding at Geo. Brown's.

Irvin Austin of West Peru is boarding at the Dixfield House where his wife is doing table work.

Your Sick Child
can't tell you what it has or how it feels—it only shows it is sick and miserable. If it is restless and peevish, doesn't sleep well, has pains in the stomach and bowels or has an erratic appetite the trouble undoubtedly is stomach or pin worms. Give the little one a few doses of that famous old life saver

DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR
IN USE 55 YEARS.
If worms are present they will be expelled. If no worms exist this wonderful medicine acts gently, yet positively, in tuning up the whole system to rugged health.

Dr. J. E. True & Co. I shall in the future know just what to recommend to others who are not feeling well, stomach out of order, headache, poor appetite, or a bad cold. I can tell you just what has helped me out of this combination of troubles. I feel better, I have more energy, I have more sleep, I have more appetite, I have more strength, I have more life. I have more of everything that makes life worth living. I have more of the things that make life a joy. I have more of the things that make life a success. I have more of the things that make life a blessing. I have more of the things that make life a gift. I have more of the things that make life a treasure. I have more of the things that make life a miracle. I have more of the things that make life a mystery. I have more of the things that make life a wonder. Written for the Advertiser.
The Story of My Shakespearian Landlord.
BY CHARLES W. STEVENS.
"What? 'Yes! Oh! Sanborn of the ADVERTISER. Good morning! Chilly, isn't it? The history of my Shakespearian Boniface? Oh! I believe I did half promise it. As you want it I will send it along soon."
The part of conversation over the phone as instanced above occurred some week or so ago, and as Editor Sanborn knows what he wants I will condense the history of my friend of a night and contribute it to his wide awake paper.
I will let my venerable host tell his own story omitting his "quotations" and other trifling digressions. Lighting his pipe, as the smoke curled upward, fixing his eyes upon a skull resting like Poe's raven upon the library top he began:
"I was born in Stratford-on-Avon some seventy-five years ago, about the time of your famous Declaration of Independence and nearly as many years before your distinguished author, Washington Irving wrote his charming sketch of the immortal bard."
And here let the writer of this story
interrupt his host for a few moments.
When visiting Stratford-on-Avon with my wife and daughter some years since we naturally selected the "Red Horse Inn" made famous by Irving for his sketch while visiting Shakespeare's birthplace. I asked the Landlord if he could give us the room Irving occupied while here.
"Oh, yes, certainly. All you Americans want to sleep in that room."
The next morning while talking of the beauties of the place and its historical associations with several compatriots, I remarked that we had the pleasure of copying the room Irving had when there.
A smile went round as each instantly replied, "So did I." Which showed, withal, that our distinguished and genial author like many of his kindred must have had a very restless disposition.
This reminds me that in our visit to several museums on the continent we were shown the skull of Attilus. When for the fourth time our attention was called to this valuable relic, I remarked that we had already seen several.
"Ah, yes," remarked the ready curator, "but this is his skull when a youth."
"My father," resumed my host, "was a physician who had acquired a fair fortune in his profession. It was his wish that I should succeed him, and I was educated at Oxford and completed my medical studies in that venerable college town. My mother died in my youth and my father, while one day mixing some chemicals for an experiment, caused an explosion which resulted in his death.
Thus at an early age I found myself almost alone in the world as I had but few relatives.
"About this time I became engaged to a young lady whose acquaintance I had made while pursuing my medical studies at Oxford, and it is because of your present journeyings under somewhat similar conditions that I am tempted for the first time in my life to relate my somewhat romantic history. Our marriage day was fixed upon when I found that a supposed friend, a college acquaintance, was rivaling me in my choice and being somewhat better off in this world's goods than myself, persuaded my fickle inamorata to break her engagement with me. Feeling that my life with such a fickle person would have been far from a happy one, I should have let the matter drop had not I heard from a friend that my rival had made very insulting remarks about me.
"This added injury, if the other could be called one, was more than my sensitive nature could withstand and I immediately challenged my rival to fight a duel. Dwellings in those days you must remember was considered a proper redress for an insult and was a very common occurrence. My challenge was accepted and my adversary, being the challenged party, had the choice of weapons. He chose pistols and as we both wished to avoid publicity decided to fight without seconds. We were to stand back to back, advance six paces,
at the word ready, turning and firing.
"At the first shot I was hit in my left arm, a slight wound. My antagonist fell to the ground. I instantly rushed to him and at once saw that he was mortally wounded, in fact after a few moments he breathed his last. God knows I had expected no such serious result and for a short time my feelings overcame me. But now what was to be done was the immediate matter to be considered. It was all important that the unexpected fatality should be kept concealed from his friends and mine.
"As the affair took place in a secluded spot I was able to hide the body until night. I then dismembered it, carried the remains to my office undiscovered and by means known to all medical professors soon removed all traces of it.
But not the deed from my consciousness.
I had killed a man, broken that divine command of Moses on the Mount, "Thou shalt not kill," and from that moment I determined to make restitution by devoting my life to the saving of that which I had destroyed.
"Having no special reasons to keep me at home and much for leaving it, I immediately packed a few of my belongings and under an assumed name took passage by ship from Liverpool to New York. I was standing by the rail of the ship when the captain came on board.
I noticed that he had been drinking but apparently not to excess. We sailed with a fair wind but much to my surprise the captain showed unmistakable signs of continuing his potations and in about a week the first officer informed me that he was confined to his berth by a serious attack of delirium tremens.
"At once went to him and nursed him according to the best of my medical ability and when he seemed to be in a fair state of recovery, I left him for a few moments to go to the cook's galley for some light food. As I turned to retrace my steps I saw him come up the cabin stairs, rush to the stern of the ship and plunge into the sea.
"We instantly hoisted and sent out boats but as the ship had been sailing under a stiff, favorable breeze no trace of the unfortunate man could be found.
Our first officer was a temporary substitute and knew but little of navigation.
While in college I had pursued the study
to some extent and was soon able to fix our latitude and longitude and finally after a fair passage of thirty days the ship was brought safely into New York.
"I immediately reported to the ship's owners and was offered a substantial reward for my services. I refused accepting any more than my passage money and that beautiful silver vase you have probably noticed on the mantle.
Through their influence I soon obtained
a situation in a hospital where I re-

The Devil of Debt.
Did you ever make friends with a devil?
People do.
One of the most vicious devils of the lot is the one we are thinking of today—
the Devil of Debt.
You may judge what a character he is from the message left by a respected man who jumped from a steamer into Long Island sound and drowned himself, first having scribbled these words: "For 20 years the devil of debt has been on my heels, and I have given up."
We become well acquainted with various devils, but there isn't any devil who can claim a larger circle of really intimate friends than this one.
The clerk, he's in debt. The bookkeeper, he's in debt. The salesmen, they're all in debt. The elevator man, of course he is. The porter, well rather.
As for the superintendent, he can scarcely remember when he wasn't. The manager, you wouldn't think it of him, but he's the worst of all. Sure he gets $5000 a year, but he spent this year's salary year before last, and you wouldn't envy him very much if you could see him after the stenographer has gone out, trying to satisfy this bank, and staying that one or another 60 days, and fighting for another thousand or so on that mortgaged lot in the suburbs. Sure the family know all about it, too, but don't they have to set a decent table, and entertain a little, goodness knows, and from that respectable hats and dresses and let the poor child have singing lessons? They owe something to their position, if you please. And people talk. "Did you notice Mrs. B.?" one woman said only yesterday. "Indeed, I did," sniffed another, "well, wearing the Star Spangled Banner!" You would not expect the family to endure that sort of thing? Oh, yes, the manager is in debt, too. Even the office boy would be in debt if anybody would trust him.
Debt is a mortgage on your salary.
Debt is a monument to a young man's weakness, a grown man's folly and an old man's failure in the University of Life.
Debt is discounting to-morrow's liberty for to-day's good time.
Debt is a quiltman to your wife's confidence, your children's ambitions and your own self-respect.
Debt is a guaranteed insurance policy against happiness.
"Then what are we going to do?"
says a chorus of young fellows and business men and aspiring women and laborers and clerks and managers and street car conductors and hundreds of others.
Do without!
It will take some backbone. It will take some genuine courage.
But you'll be able to hold your head up—and that's more than you can do now, and you know it. You won't have of him that they seem at first thought of every mail, and you won't tremble every time the boss asks you to come into the front office. Neither will you be ashamed for your stenographer to open your mail.
Because you'll be working to-day for to-morrow's satisfaction, and not to make good on account of yesterday's extravagance. [San Antonio Gazette.]

Danger of Catarrh.
Unless Properly Treated with Hyomei, Becomes Serious.
Catarrhal troubles are far more dangerous than they seem at first thought.
If you have catarrh, there is an irritated state of the mucous membrane and weakened tissues which afford an ideal lodgment and culture medium for disease germs, especially those of consumption.
You should get cured as quickly as possible before any dangerous germs that you may breathe lodge on the diseased tissue and work destruction in the throat and lungs.
The easiest, simplest, quickest, surest and cheapest way to cure catarrh is by the direct method, breathing Hyomei.
This wonderful medicated air treatment
does not drug and derange the stomach, but is breathed in, directly following and destroying all disease germs that may have been inhaled.
The unusual way in which Hyomei is sold by Frank Kimball, Prop. of the Noyes Drug Store, is the best evidence of his faith in the treatment and should dispell all doubt as to its curative properties. He agrees to refund the purchase price to anyone whom Hyomei fails to benefit, and you do not risk a cent in testing its healing virtues. A complete outfit costs but $3.00 if it helps you, a not a cent if it does not do all that is claimed for it. 45.

THIS FAMILY
RECOMMENDS THEM
Richmond, Me., Nov. 12, 1906.
"Your Bitters have been used for a great many years in the family, and we highly recommend them."
Yours truly, L. A. Thurlow.
Everyone can enjoy good health by taking an occasional dose of "L. P." Atwood's Bitters. They keep the stomach well, the liver active, and the bowels regular. They dispel sickness and restore health. Try them tonight. 38c.

Valuable Pain Reliever that is Especially Needed Now.
Wherever there is pain, there is a nerve, and this explains why Neuralgia Anodyne is of value in so many troubles that are seemingly quite dissimilar. From chilblains to rheumatism, including toothache, headache,
neuralgia, colds, sore throat, cuts,
bruises, sprains, and in fact every ache or pain, the Anodyne is of the greatest value. Its principle of cure is different from that of the over-made, or rheumatism, as small doses are taken internally to soothe the nerve centres, and it is also applied externally, giving local treatment to the very spot where there is pain and soreness.
A 25 ct. bottle of Neuralgia Anodyne will do a world of good in any family in curing aches and pains. It is sold everywhere under a guarantee to cost nothing unless it gives satisfaction.
